AMERICAN ADMIRAL IS SNUBBED BY BRITISH COLONIAL GOVERNOR INTERNATIONAL INCIDENT OPENS

Swettenham in Curt and Sarcastic Note Requests Withdrawal of American Blue Jackets From kingstown

SHIPS SENT THERE ON ERRAND OF MERCY

Were Also Ordered Back to Guantanamo---English Press Uphoids American---Conference Held Monday at the White House.

Washington, Jan. 21.—President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon had a conference at the White House Monday, regarding the Swettenham-Davis incident at Kingston. Bacon, before entering the conference, while admitting that the American ships had withdrawn, said he had no official knowledge of any difficulty between the American admiral and Governor Swettenham. The state department fully appreciates the seriousness of the situation if the details contained in the press dispatches are true, but officials decline to express any opinion until a full report from Davis is received. There is a disposition among officials of the department to blame Davis for landing troops, declaring that he had not a right to do so without express permission from the Jamaican authorities as provided by international law. At the navy department however, it is stated that Davis cabled some days ago that the city officials of Kingston requested him to land a detachment of men to assist in maintaining order at the penitentiary.

U. S. WILL TAKE NO ACTION.

Washington, Jan. 21.—It is announced officially that the United States will not ask Great Britain to discipline the governor of Jamaica for his discourtesy, which resulted in the withdrawal of American warships from Kingston even should the British foreign office inform the state department that it stands ready to punish the island governor. The state department would reply that it was no concern whatever of the United States Government. Swettenham's action will have no bearing on the administration's future course in similar cases.

ALL ENGLAND INDIGNANT

At the Insult Offered to Admiral Davis and His Recall is Almost Certain.

London, Jan. 21—All England is aflame with indignation today over the notion of Governor General Swettenham in refusing the kindly and friendly officers of Admiral Davis, of the United States fleet, which rushed to the aid of the stricken city of Kingston, Jamaica. In every quarter are heard mutterings which portend the recall of the tactless and witless governor. Not a word of blame is voiced against Davis by the British press today. The English newspapers either withhold judgment or openly condemn Swettenham and brand his blunder as a piece of blockheadedness. All the London dailies express the hope editorially that a common sense view of the incident will prevail in the United States and that the blunder of the individual will not be allowed to cool the present strong Anglo-American friendship. A stinging message was today sent to Swettenham by the colonial secretary, directing him to telegraph all the facts in the case immediately. The general opinion is that the colonial office will disavow Swettenham, who will probably be asked to resign. This is not the first criticism passed on the governor's handling of the situation, and considerable feeling has been aroused against him in the colonial office, previous to the Davis incident, because of his failure to keep the government posted on the trend of events, and not sending proper lists of the English casualties and the condition of the British people of prominence.

A special dispatch to the Evening Standard from Kingston states that the keenest resentment prevails throughout the stricken city to the governor's determination to rehabilitate Kingston without American aid. The dispatch says that while the American officers are undoubtedly chagrined at Swettenham's refusal to accept kindly services, they have maintained a dignified attitude and insisted that there would be no friction. The Standard's correspondent declares that Davis' men lent valuable aid and that the American commander was preparing to land every available man from his ships to aid in clearing the ruins, when the incident occurred which caused him to withdraw his men and ships. As typifying the sentiment of the people of Kingston the mayor of Kingston went to Davis on behalf of the citizens and condemned the governor's action in the harshest terms. The mayor requested Davis to remain at Kingston, but this the latter declined to do.

Swettenham threatened to arrest Mr. Magnus, the leading Kingston merchant, unless he desisted from using American marines to help during a storm. As a consequence of the position assumed by the governor, the rescue and repair work are greatly retarded. The negroes are disinclined to work, preferring the picnic life which they enjoy in relief camps. The terrible stench from the decomposed bodies continues. The Globe alone defends Swettenham. It says that contemporaries do not know the provocation the governr may have received.

"The men under Davis are Americans, with the American disposition to magnify the power and glory of the United States at every turn. In time of her greatest peril, Jamaica sees itself protected by a foreign Power. This is the greatest humiliation any British colony has endured since Majuba Hill."

VESSELS RETURN TO GUANTANAMO.

Washington, Jan. 21—The navy department this morning received a dispatch from Commandant Bebler at Key West station, saying: "Evans reports by wireless from Guantanamo: 'The Missouri, Yankton and Indiana have returned here.'" The vessels referred to composed Rear Admiral Davis' squadron which was on duty at Kingston and left the stricken city on account of the discourteous treatment accorded by Governor Swettenham.

SWETTENHAM HAS SWELL HEAD

London, Jan. 21—A prominent member of the government, who for various reasons cannot be quoted, in discussing the incident to the correspondent of the S. M. P. A. said:

"Swettenham has always suffered from a swelled head. The 39 years of his official life have been spent in Cyprus, Ceylon, Singapore and other posts, where lower civilization prevailed. He was thus encouraged to develop his naturally autocratic character and when the first big crisis of his career arose he was unable to rise above his petty personalities. He tried to play the Czar with disastrous results."

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 21.—The American landing parties in Jamaica have been withdrawn and the battleships and gunboat Yankton have sailed away.

Rear Admiral Davis' mission to stricken Kingston came to an abrupt and painful conclusion in consequence of Governor Swettenham's objection to the presence of American sailors engaged in the work of clearing the streets, guarding property and succoring the wounded and sick, culminating in a letter to the admiral peremptorily requesting him to re embark all parties which had been landed. Admiral Davis was greatly shocked and pained and paid a formal visit to Governor Swettenham, informing him that the United States battleships Missouri and Indiana and the gunboat Yankton would sail away. Admiral Davis said to press representatives that immediate compliance with Governor Swettenham's request was the only course consistent with the dignity of the United States. The rear admiral said he deeply regretted the attitude of the governor. He was still convinced that the governor was unequal to the task of relieving distress—that this was evident from the fact that the American field hospital had tended many sick and wounded and others were constantly arriving, having been unable to gain admission to the government hospital.

Governor Swettenham's attitude toward a friendly American officer's assistance is greatly deplored by many of the residents of Kingston, some of them even suggesting that the governor be petitioned to resign. His action is construed by some as inspired by resentment of President Roosevelt's attitude toward Jamaican negroes on the Panama canal. Others ridicule the governor's objection to the landing of American sailors, armed or not armed.

The friction between the governor

WORST OF FLOOD IS NOW OVER IN OHIO VALLEY

AND IT IS BELIEVED MONDAY WILL SEE THE END OF THE RISE.

COLD WAVE AND WIND STORM

Added to the Suffering of Thousands Driven From Their Homes by the High Waters.

Cincinnati, Jan. 21—The worst of the present flood in the Ohio river is practically over at Cincinnati. It is thought the end of the rise will come today. Early this morning the flood had attained the stage of 65 feet one inch, having risen since noon at an average rate of one inch in every four hours.

From above there comes the cheering information that at most points the waters are either stationary or are receding slowly. Yet, according to Weather Forecaster Bassler, another slight rise is following closely on the heels of the present one which has so nearly reached the top notch.

A cold wave, accompanied by an unusually heavy wind, struck the city yesterday and added to the suffering of those who have been driven from their homes.

The prompt relief work organized by Mayor Dempsey Saturday came in time to prevent a great amount of suffering. Hundreds of relief workers were busy yesterday rescuing families from flooded districts, supplying coal to the freezing and food to the hungry.

Several hundred families were taken from their homes out of windows in upper floors and conveyed in boats to dry land where they were given shelter in schools, churches and other buildings. A large number of them were made comfortable in private homes of their more fortunate neighbors living on the hill sides in the extreme east end, in Riverside and other districts.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 21.—The suffering of the 20,000 flood victims in this vicinity was augmented by the cold wave which swooped down on this city Sunday and a number of buildings that had been weakened by the water went down before the wind. The most serious loss by collapsing of walls was caused when several floors in the buildings on Walnut street occupied by A. Janssen, wholesale grocery company, and the Ohio Butterine company, went down with a crash that could be heard for several blocks. The area of the flooded section was increased considerably, each inch of rise spreading over wide territory. For several hours Sunday the river was stationary at 64.8 feet, but the weather bureau officials could find only temporary consolation in this fact, announcing that the news from up the river indicated that the river here would go up to at least 66 and perhaps 67 feet within the next 36 hours. The rise cut off approaches to foot bridges across the river, isolating most of the people on the Kentucky side of the river. Some of those in Covington were still able to cross over the railroad bridges, but Newport was almost wholly cut off, and sections of Covington, Bellevue, Ludlow and Bromley were suffering from the backwaters. Strenuous efforts were made to avoid serious interruption to street railway traffic, but the isolation of the bridges prevented a continuance of the car lines to Cincinnati, and there were long stretches along the Kentucky side of the river where the cars were unable to pass. In the east end of Cincinnati the car service was so badly crippled that half a dozen transfers were necessary to go a few blocks, passengers being compelled to climb around the inundated sections. All the railroads on both sides of the river, except two lines, continue to suffer from lack of terminal facilities.

Reports from up the river state that the lower end of Parkersburg was under water and the railroads were in trouble. Almost the entire business section of Portsmouth was under water and the entire north and west end floodbound, while 5,000 people driven from their homes were sheltered in schools and churches, and the city was without gas or water service.

DANGER OF COAL FAMINE.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 21—There is danger of a coal famine in this city within a few days. At present there are 10,000,000 bushels of coal on the river, but this is absolutely unavailable. There are in the yards of the city at present 9,000 tons. This under the present conditions is sufficient to last three days. It is impossible to get any coal into the city. None of the railroads can bring in a

HARRY K. THAW'S TRIAL ADJOURNED UNTIL WEDNESDAY

New York, Jan. 21—The trial of Harry K. Thaw was today adjourned until next Wednesday. The prisoner was brought over to the prison pen in the court building, but did not appear in the court room.

Manacled to a prison guard, the spoiled scion of the Thaw family of Pittsburg, was brought from the old gray Tombs today to stand trial for shooting down and killing Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square Garden last June, because of jealousy of his artist model wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Though pallid from his months of confinement in the Tombs cell, Thaw's health seemed much improved by his incarceration. His arraignment today was purely formal, and he will be remanded back to the Tombs to await the real beginning of his trial in a few days. A delay in the Hilgert "Magic Boots" case caused postponement of the Thaw trial today. Report has it today that Thaw's defense will be temporary insanity. Unable to find provocation for shooting White they will try to prove that he was sane before the killing and is sane now. If the jury is satisfied that Thaw was insane from jealousy when he shot White, and that he is sane now, Thaw will go free. Lawyers say it is a long chance, but Thaw has always taken long chances. To escape the electric chair and the insane asylum is Thaw's determination, and he is ready to take it.

District Attorney Jerome believes that it will be a short trial. He declares that the case is simply one of brutal murder and is the replica of scores of killings among the denizens of the Tenderloin. Jerome says that the state can conclude its case within three or four days, though some time may be required to select a jury. The district attorney says that Thaw shot down Stanford White in cold blood, and that he did it without provocation, and was sane when he killed him.

Great crowds thronged the criminal courts building this morning to gain admittance to the court room, where Thaw was to be tried.

New York, Jan. 21.—With the long-expected trial of Harry Thaw only a few days away, there is still a feeling in usually well informed circles that something may yet happen to put an abrupt end to the proceedings. The great pressure which has been brought to bear upon the prisoner to permit a request for the appointment of a lunacy commission, the authenticated statements from a number of alienists who have examined Thaw in the Tombs, who pronounced him irresponsible; the arrival of his titled sister, the Countess of Yarmouth, who is said to have more influence with the brother than any other member of the family, all tend to keep the followers of the case on the alert for a new and sudden development.

The trial of Thaw was set down to begin this morning in the criminal branch of the supreme court, and he accordingly was presented formally at the bar. But Justice John J. Fitzgerald had another case pending. In the meantime 200 talesmen, members of a special jury panel drawn for the Thaw trial, will have to await the call of the court. This large jury list has been selected with the greatest of care.

Intent upon being tried upon the merits of his case, no one beyond the prisoner, his intimate relations and present counsel knows what the defense will have to offer in justification of Thaw's act. Much has been said about "the unwritten law" in connection with the Thaw case, but how far the testimony will go toward influencing a jury on such a plea remains to be seen. Thaw apparently has not suffered a moment's remorse during his long confinement within the gloomy walls of the Tombs. His persistence in the claim that he was morally justified in taking White's life has apparently prevailed with his counsel, and they will go into court with a plea of not guilty.

PASSENGER TRAIN TORN TO PIECES IN EXPLOSION

WHILE PASSING FREIGHT TRAIN WHICH WAS LOADED WITH POWDER.

OVER A SCORE WERE KILLED

And Many Were Injured Some Very Seriously—Sixteen Dead in Fowler Wreck.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 21.—From the ruins of Big Four passenger train No. 3, which was destroyed Saturday night by the explosion of a carload of powder as it passed a freight train at Sandford, there have been removed 22 charred and mutilated bodies. At least 35 persons were injured, several fatally and a number severely.

The explosion was felt for thirty miles, many believing it an earthquake. The three coaches of the passenger train were filled. The entire train, including the engine, was blown from the track, the coaches demolished, the engine hurled 50 feet, and the passengers either blown to pieces, consumed by fire, or rescued in a more or less injured condition. At least 45 injured, some fatally, are at the hospitals in Terre Haute and Paris, Ill. Several are also being cared for at Sandford.

Identified dead: William Thompson, Sandford, Ind.; William Davis, Vermillion, Ill.; J. W. Sutherland, Paris, Ill.; John Franklin, Ashmore, Ill.; A. D. Hector, Elbridge, Ill.; Charles Gosnell, Paris, Ill.; Claude Steele, Sandford, Ind.; A. A. Hicks, Sandford, Ind.; Dr. Haslett, Grand View, Ill.; Frank Fielder Findlay, O.; Mary Earhart, Terre Haute, Ind.; H. Blakely, Findlay, O.; John A. Bowen, Mattoon, Ill. Missing and believed to have been burned to death: Mrs. Bud Wolfe, Sandford; two daughters of Mrs. Wolfe, aged 8 and 6 years respectively; A. Kuykendall, thought to be a Vandalia fireman; body of aged woman, burned beyond identification; four charred bodies not identified.

Keith Brian of Salem, O., is among the injured.

The train was literally hurled to pieces by the terrible force of the explosion. Huge masses of iron were found hundreds of feet from the track. The tank of the passenger locomotive was hurled nearly 100 feet, landing in a gravel road. Two passenger coaches and one baggage coach were consumed by fire which broke out in the wreckage. The freight train which was hauling the car of powder was badly demolished. Eight freight cars were wrecked and burned. The others were pulled out of danger. Not a home in Sandford escaped. Windows were shattered, dishes and furniture broken, and in some instances doors were torn from their hinges. The train was an accommodation passenger train running from Indianapolis to Mattoon, Ill., and was destroyed at 8:50 p. m. Citizens of Sandford worked heroically to release the imprisoned passengers and did all in their power to succor the injured.

Cries of the injured and crackling of the flames greeted the rescuers, who worked frantically, but soon were forced back by the terrible heat. There was noticeable in the air a penetrating odor of burning flesh as they worked. There was no efficient water supply to fight the flames, and the bitter cold added to the suffering. One thousand feet of the track was torn up and a great hole shows where the powder car stood. This car was being hauled from Concord Junction, Mass., to East Alton, Ill., and contained 500 kegs of powder.

According to trainmen of the freight, the explosion of the powder was caused by the concussion made by the passing passenger train, which was slowing down for the Sandford station. Another theory is that gas escaping from an oil pipe line near by entered the car containing the powder, and a spark from the passing engine ignited the gas. The belief was expressed by one or two persons that the disaster was due to the act of a tramp or an intoxicated man who may have fired a shot into the car.

SIGNAL NOT SEEN.

Sixteen Dead the Result of the Collision on the Big Four.

Fowler, Ind., Jan. 21—At least 16 persons were crushed or burned to death in the collision on the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad, between the Queen City special and a freight train. Ten persons were seriously injured and several more slightly hurt. The passenger train was running at a speed of 50 miles an hour, and consisted of a combination coach, three Pullman sleepers and a private car. With the exception of the private coach the entire train was destroyed by fire. Eleven of the victims were burned to death in the combination

DOCKS DESTROYED; VESSELS ASHORE; MILLION DAMAGE

Terrific Gale Swept Over Buffalo on Sunday, and Many Buildings Were Blown Down.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 21.—A terrific gale, which blew 90 miles an hour at times, swept this city for 18 hours, and has done $1,500,000 damage to shipping. Five large lake liners wintered just inside the breakwater were torn loose from their moorings and driven aground. The vessels aground are the Hurlburt W. Smith, William Nottingham, J. Q. Riddle, Monroe C. Smith and A. G. Brower. Most of them are owned in Cleveland. They have cargoes. For hours the gale swept the water front, tearing everything that stood in its path. Docks and wharves were wrecked and carried away; craft broken from their moorings, smashed against bridges, and doing serious damage, smokestacks and buildings of lighter construction were blown down like pepper boxes, but so far no casualties have been reported.

Outbreaks in China.

Shanghai, Jan. 21—Rumors of an anti dynastic movement in the middle Yangtse region have received some confirmation. A fresh outbreak has taken place at Houangchouful, and two regiments have been dispatched thither from Hankow. The insurgents number 3,000.

ASTOR SWEARS OFF BIG LUMP OF N. Y. TAXES

He Gets Off With the Modest Sum of Five Thousand Dollars on Personal Property.

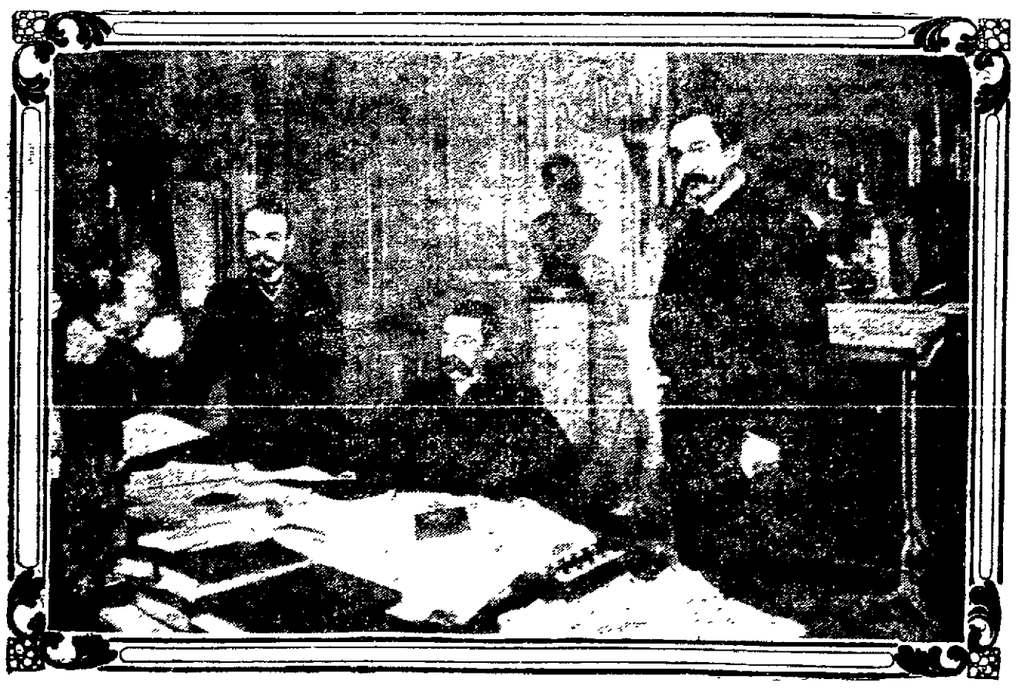

New York, Jan. 21—William Waldorf Astor Saturday took the head place in the procession of millionaire "sweat-offs" who annually dodge their taxes by the old, familiar route. Mr. Astor succeeded in having his assessment of $750,000 reduced to the modest sum of $5,000. The tax department accepted the latter figure.

Mr. Astor of course, did not appear personally, but through his counsel. The latter stated to the tax officials that the assessment of $750,000, which was put on Mr. Astor's personal estate, was excessive. It was claimed that Mr. Astor has no personal property in this country whatever, and that his only holdings here are real estate.

HYPNOTIZED INTO MARRYING.

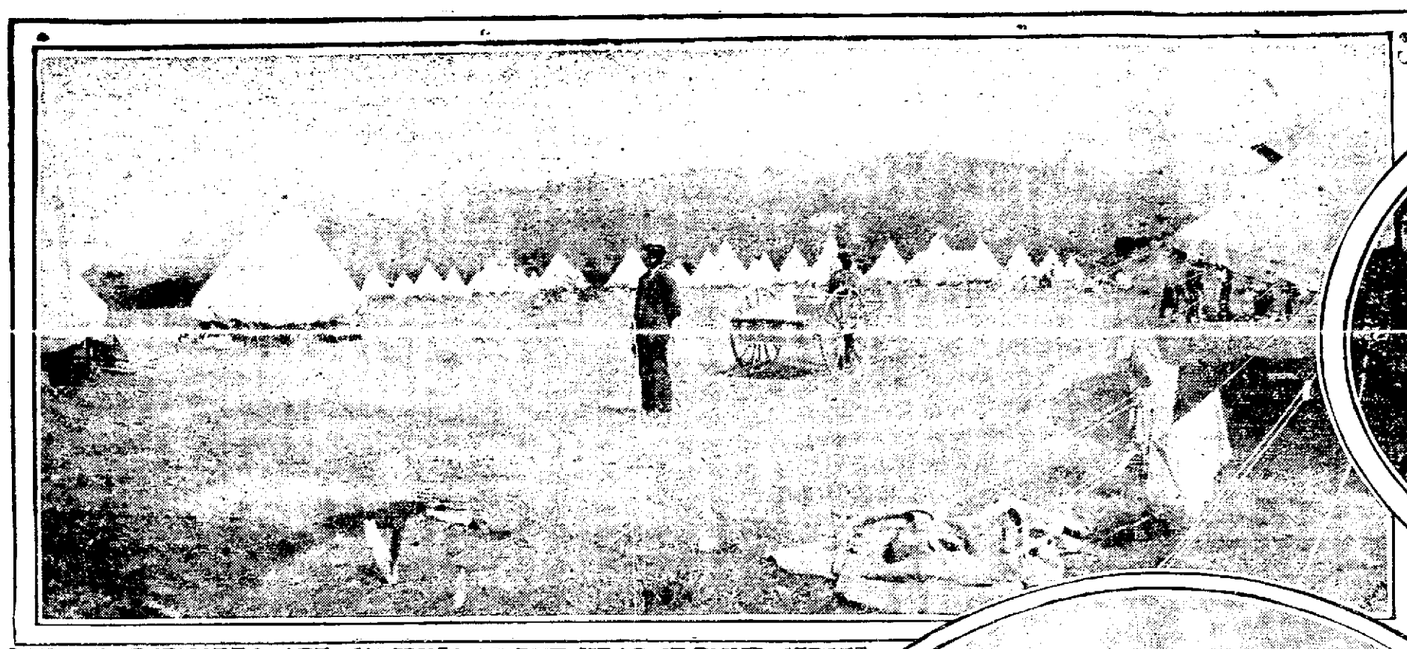

Wooster, O., Jan. 21—Mrs. James Houghtaling, nee Nellie Frank, has just been granted a divorce from her husband, to whom she was married a few months ago after an acquaintance of a few weeks. Less than two months later she left Houghtaling, and declares that she was hypnotized when she married him.

KEEP YOUR DOG ON A "TROLLEY"

If you think that you have to keep a dog, that you can not get along without a dog and if you desire to have a dog that will be a pleasure to you and not a nuisance to the whole neighborhood, put him on a "trolley," which means a tightly stretched wire with the dog's chain running freely along its length.

Twenty feet of wire and six or seven feet of chain are ample to give the animal all the exercise required, but be sure to have the trolley located so that the dog cannot get entangled and where he will have access to shelter. Your dog may worry some for a few days, but if you will stick to this method it will convert the veriest tramp into a gentleman dog, and one that will always be on duty when needed. Bear in mind, that while you may like dogs, there are people who dislike them, so in any event it is your duty to keep your dog from bothering anyone else.

CONFERENCE

Between President and Senators on the Brownsville Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Several conferences of Republican senators were held to consider the Blackburn amendment to the Foraker resolution relative to the president's discharge of the negro troops. President Roosevelt spent several hours at Senator Lodge's home, and several Republican senators were called in. A decision was reached to draft a resolution along the lines of the original Lodge resolution, which will meet the approval of Senator Blackburn. This resolution will take the position that the "senate had no legal right to question the action of the president."

Senator Foraker took no part in any of the conferences, and declared that he would vote against the Blackburn amendment if the question is brought before the senate. The Ohio senator said that he really did not care whether the resolution was adopted or voted down. The president expressed himself as being satisfied with the Blackburn amendment or the substitute, and declared that he was anxious that the matter be submitted to a vote in the senate.

FOUR MEN

Bumped Against Him and Later the Indiana Man Discovered a Loss of $6,000.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 21—Charles Hartley, a well known business man of New Albany, Ind., was robbed of $6,000 on a passenger train at the Rock Island depot Sunday evening. Hartley had been in Hot Springs for several weeks. Six thousand dollars were drawn from the Arkansas National bank Saturday evening. He started home Sunday.

When the train stopped at this city he noticed four men in a car trying to block the aisel. They rubbed against him several times and pushed him toward the door. When he alighted he discovered his money was gone. Hartley gave the alarm and identified two men, who gave their names as Dave Brook and George Sherdon. They claim Minneapolis as their home, and said they had been in Hot Springs several weeks. The two were lodged in jail here on the charge of robbery. The other two escaped.

"CLANSMAN" A CURRENT TOPIC.

Not to have seen "The Clansman" put the average theater goer out of the swim last seasen. It was the topic of hot argument and lively debate in every gathering place. Literally thousands of letters were written to the newspapers by persons who had seen it and who had "views" to express. Not a day passed without extensive editorial comment, or treatment at length in the news column. On Sundays clergymen preached about it from the pulpit. In New York City members of the Ogden movement, taking alarm, organized a counter demonstration for Booker T. Washington at Carnegie hall. This, however, did not affect the vogue of the play, which enjoyed an enormous success in all the Northern cities as well as throughout the south and west. The play which stirred up all this controversy and discussion has been booked at the Auditorium for Thursday, January 24.

We Offer $1,000.

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Cannot Kill.

This offer goes out with every bottle of Liquozone. Do you suppose we would do that if any known germ could resist it?

Liquozone is for those who believe that a germ disease calls for a germicide; that the germs must be killed before the trouble can end. You have doubtless tried the old ways, and you know the results. We ask you to try the new way; to try it at our expense. Use what millions have used and learn what they know about it. You are not fair to yourself until you do that.

What Liquozone Is.

Liquozone is a tonic-germicide, the virtues of which are derived solely from oxide gases. No alcohol, no narcotic, nothing but gas enters into it. The process of making requires large apparatus, and consumes 14 days' time. The object is to so combine the gases with a liquid as to carry their virtues into the system.

The result is a germicide so certain that we publish with every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that Liquozone cannot kill. It destroys them because germs are of vegetable origin. But to the body Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying.

That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poisons when taken internally. They are impossible, for they destroy the tissues as well as the germs. That is why medicine proves so helpless in dealing with germ diseases. Liquozone, on the contrary, acts as a remarkable tonic.

We Paid $100,000.

For the rights to Liquozone, after thousands of tests had been made with it, after its power had been demonstrated for more than two years in the most difficult germ diseases. Conditions which had resisted medicine for years yielded at once to it, and diseases considered incurable were cured.

That was five years ago. Since then millions of people in every part of the world have shared in the benefits of this invention. Nearly every hamlet, every neighborhood, has living examples of its power. Now we ask you to let it do for you what it did for them.

Germ Diseases.

Most of our sickness has, in late years, been traced to germ attacks. Some germs—as in skin troubles—directly attack the tissues. Some create toxins, causing such troubles as Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Kidney Disease and nerve weakness. Some destroy vital organs, as in Consumption. Some—like the germs of Catarrh—create inflammation; some cause indigestion. In one of these ways, nearly every serious ailment is a germ result.

Such conditions call for a germicide, not for common drugs. Liquozone does what other means cannot accomplish. And it is wrong to cling to old ways when millions of people know a way that is better.

50c Bottle Free.

If you wish to know what Liquozone does please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the product itself show you what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligations whatever.

Liquozone costs 50c and $1.

Drunks Were Fined.

Joseph Howard, Greeley Ackerman, Joseph Caldwell, William Jones and Frank Huston were the plain drunks in police court Monday morning. All were fined $5 and costs. Caldwell was found by Officers Swank and Howard on the steps of the Heisey residence in East Main street. Jones was in the same condition on the steps of Mr. Connor's house in West Newark.

Not an Ill Wind.

The closing pour down of thhe recent rainy period and the swiftly sweeping wind that closely followed, cleaned up the streets of Newark as they have not been for many months. Such a cleansing of our streets would cost the city a large sum of money by the present methods and appliances. On this occasion our city certainly owes thanks to the stormy elements. It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good.

$10,000 FIRE VISITED UTICA MONDAY MORNING

FIRE STARTED IN WARNER'S RESTAURANT IN THE McKITRICK HALL.

WHICH WAS DESTROYED

Citizens Turned Out En Masse to Prevent the Fire From Spreading.

(Special to Advocate.)

Utica, O., Jan. 21—This village was damaged by fire Monday morning to an extent that is estimated to exceed $10,000. The origin of the conflagration is unknown but is believed to have been accidental. Insurance will cover less than one-half the damage.

The fire started in Warner's restaurant at 6 o'clock and spread rapidly to the McKitrick hall and pool room, and the quarters of the new Star Clothing store. These buildings and their entire contents were destroyed, with the exception of the greater part of the clothing stock. The flames spread rapidly to the C. W. Jewell hardware store and this building, a two story structure, was destroyed. A greater part of the hardware stock was saved.

The Utica volunteer fire department, with donkey pumps and buckets and 500 feet of hose sent from Newark, worked from the time the fire was discovered until noon. The blaze was reported under control at 9:30.

Aside from slight damage to the skating rink, no other buildings were harmed.

The citizens turned out en masse to assist in retarding the flames and experienced much inconvenience on account of the cold weather. However, by substituting men the fire was fought successfully.

A NATION OF CRIPPLES

RHEUMATISM BEYOND CONTROL.

URIC-O TREATMENT ADVISED.

Very few people nowadays are free from some form of Rheumatism. In fact it looks as though the disease was fast crippling our nation. People of means are trying the great specialists, and they go from East to West and to all parts of the earth in search of medical help and relief.

The greatest boon to mankind has recently been brought about, especially to those who suffer with Rheumatic Acid Poisoning. It is a harmless remedy called URIC-O. A treatment for the blood, bladder and kidneys. This marvelous remedy, taken internally, acts in a thorough manner on the blood, relieving those terrible pains that nearly craze the mind. URIC-O is made for Rheumatism only, and it is a positive cure for the disease in all its forms. It is harmless and pleasant to take, containing no poison, alcohol or whisky, and, if taken as directed, will cure each and every form of Rheumatism, no matter how bad.

Druggists sell URIC-O at $1.00 per bottle, or it will be sent at above price by the SMITH DRUG COMPANY, SYRACUSE, N. Y. Liberal size samples and circulars will be forwarded free to all who apply for same.

Uric-o is sold and recommended in Newark by Frank D. Hall, North Side Square.

A. F. CRAYTON & CO. NEW FIRM NAME

Mr. Eugene M. Fletcher Purchases Interest in Well Known Pharmacy Monday.

Mr. Alfred F. Crayton, the well known South Side druggist, has sold an interest in the store to Mr. Eugene M. Fletcher, who has been connected with the Crayton pharmacy for the past ten years. Mr. Fletcher became a partner in the firm on Monday, and hereafter the business will be conducted under the name of A. F. Crayton & Company. Mr. Crayton has been in the drug business for the past twenty-one years, sixteen years of which time he has been in Newark. He has made the change on account of other business, being actively connected with the directory of the Franklin National Bank and the Home Building Association. He also has other outside interests which this move will enable him to look after. Mr. Crayton is a graduate of Otterbein University and is a registered pharmacist.

Mr. Fletcher, who came here from Zanesville, is a young man possessed of a thorough knowledge of the drug business, and has many friends both in Newark and Zanesville who will be pleased to learn of his financial interest in the business.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

JAMES A. DAVIS.

A very sadden death of a well known resident of Licking county occurred in Eden township on Friday night of last week. James A. Davis, a life citizen of Eden township, aged 70 years, attended a public sale in the vicinity on Friday, apparently in his usual health. At 8 o'clock Friday evening he sustained a severe stroke of apoplexy and died about 11 o'clock the same night, being sick only about three hours. He left no widow, but two sons and one daughter, and had made his home with one of the sons, their children living near him. The funeral services were held at 11 o'clock Sunday at the home, and the interment was made in the Souslin cemetery.

Mr. Davis was an industrious, honest and highly respected citizen, a life long Democrat and his death will be sincerely deplored.

MRS. SARAH B. WILSON.

Mr. Amos Brice has just received word of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Sarah B. Wilson. She died on the 12th inst., at the home of her son, Nathaniel H. Wilson at Liberty Hill, Texas, after a brief illness. She was the last survivor of a family of fourteen children born to Benjamin and Sarah Brice of West Virginia. She was the youngest sister of the late J. W. Brice of Newark, and was past the eightieth year of her age. She came to Newark when quite a young girl and made her home with her brother, John W. Price. She was a most talented and accomplished young woman, and married John F. Wilson of Newark, a brother of Geo. A. Wilson, an old resident of Newark. She lived in Newark with her husband for many years. Two children were born to them, Nathaniel and Frank. She removed with her sons to Texas about 25 years ago, spending the most of her time with them until her death. Of her relatives in Newark, Mr. A. H. Brice, Mrs. Dr. Black and Miss Emily Moore are nephews and nieces. She is connected with the Kiblers, Grants, Wotrings and family of Mr. Frederic Black. The funeral took place at Liberty Hill, Texas, on January 13.

INFANT'S DEATH.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Collins of 365 Eddy street, died Monday morning. The funeral will take place Tuesday.

MRS. GRIFFITH D. JONES.

Granville, O., Jan. 21.—Mary Jones, wife of Griffith D. Jones, died at her home two miles south of Granville at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Jones leaves, beside her husband, four daughters and one son to mourn her death. Mrs. Jones as 72 years of age and death was due to heart trouble. The funeral will take place at 12:30 Tuesday at the home. Interment in Welsh Hills cemetery.

MRS. SEWARDS FUNERAL.

The remains of Mrs. Frances Seward were taken to Perryton Sunday morning, where the funeral services were held, and the body laid to rest beside her husband in the little cemetery of that place.

OBITUARY.

The funeral of the late John Kerrigan of St. Louisville was held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, when a high mass was had by the Rev. B. M. O'Boylan. The remains were interred in Mt. Calvary cemetery. The deceased is survived by three brothers and four sisters, who deeply mourn his death. They are William and Michael of Newark, Margaret and Catherine who live in Ireland, Mrs. Christianson, Susanna and Andrew. His parents died 20 years ago in Ireland.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to express my thanks for the kindness of friends and neighbors in Newark and St. Louisville during the death and burial of my brother, John Kerrigan. Andy Kerrigan.

FINED FOR SELLING HAMS DOCTORED WITH BORIC ACID

Hammond Company Makes No Defense, but Pays $57.50 Without a Word of Protest.

Philadelphia, Jan. 21—Pleading guilty to the charge of selling doctored hams, the Hammond company paid a fine and costs amounting to $57.50 in Magistrate Beaton's court.

Two witnesses testified that the hams which contained boric acid, had come from the Hammond company. H. P. Cassidy, agent for the Dairy and Food Commissioner, and Prof. Charles H. Lowell, said the hams were doctored.

Without a word of explanation or defense, Henry Spalding, attorney for the Hammon company paid the fine.

Clara's Joke.

Little ten-year-old Clara had heard a joke at a friend's party. It was entirely new to her, and as soon as she returned home she repeated it, with much elaboration of detail, to her father.

He had heard it many times before, but its unique treatment at Clara's hands amused him so much that he laughed before she was half through.

Clara was much astonished and ejaculated:

"Why, papa, what made you laugh before I had finished?"

"Oh," her father said evasively, "the story was so funny that I couldn't help it!"

"Well," replied Clara, "it takes you quicker to see a joke than anybody I ever saw!"—Bohemian Magazine.

Dog Did the Wrong Trick.

The Irishman wanted to sell the dog, but the prospective buyer was suspicious and finally decided not to buy. The man then told him why he was so anxious to sell. "You see," he said, "I bought the dog and trained him myself. I got him so he'd bark all the time if a person stepped inside the gate, and I thought I was safe from burglars. Then my wife wanted me to train him to carry bundles, and I did. If I put a packet in his mouth the dog would keep it there till some one took it away. Well, one night I woke up and heard some one in the next room. I got up and grabbed my gun. They were there—three of the scoundrels and the dog."

"Didn't he bark?" interrupted the man.

"Sorry a bark; he was too busy."

"Busy! What doing?"

"Carrying a lantern for the burglars."—Dublin Freeman.

BURIED ALIVE FOR 12 HOURS

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 21—John Caree, while testifying at a trial, said that in 1878, the year of Chattanooga's yellow fever scourge, he was buried alive for 12 hours, being thought dead.

"I was taken ill of yellow fever," he said. "The next day I died. That is, they thought I died, but I did not. I suppose I was in a trance. They put me in a coffin and at about 10 o'clock buried me.

"I wore a ring that was claimed by a young woman. That night her friends dug up my body to get the ring. I heard the hammering on the box. Then I felt the pulling on my finger.

"I sat up in the coffin and the grave diggers ran. I got out of the grave, but don't know what I did until the next day, when I found myself on the street in my underclothes."

AN INTERESTING STATEMENT.

W. A. Erman & Son Say They Have at Last Discovered a Positive Cure for Indigestion.

"For years," said a member of the above drug firm, "we have been waiting for some one to discover a remedy that really will cure dyspepsia.

"We recently learned that a new remedy, Pepsikola Tablets, had been placed on the market, and on investigation we found that at last there is a remedy that surely will cure.

"We laid in a big supply because we knew that as soon as the people began to know about this remarkable remedy there would be a big demand for it, and it is selling beyond our expectations."

It is not often a druggist sells a new remedy on a positive guarantee, but unless cured of nervousness, dizzy spells, sour stomach, coated tongue, constipation and other symptoms of dyspepsia, Erman & Son will hand back your money cheerfully and without argument.

No one should hesitate on trying a 25 cent box of Pepsikola Tablets, as they will not cost you a penny should they fail to relieve and cure the very worst case of indigestion and dyspepsia. mf

THE REAL PROBLEM CONFRONTING NEWARK

WILL PROPOSED NEW WATER PLANT PAY THE COST OF MAINTENANCE.

When a Private Plant In Competion Divides the Patronage and Source of Revenue?

Under the head of "Water Problems," the American-Tribune a few days ago copied a lengthy extract from a paper recently read before Yale University, discussing the subject of water works construction. The concluding paragraph of the article contains the following statement:

"Last, but not least of the general topics for the consideration of the fire protection engineer in connection with water works is the question of maintenance."

The question of "maintenance" is the one that most concerns present conditions in Newark in the effort to construct new works and it is the one that apparently receives the least serious consideration in certain quarters. How can Newark city, after constructing a $600,000 or $700,000 plant make it pay the cost of maintenance, taking into account the payment of the annual interest charge on such a large bond issue?

By what process and from what source is sufficient revenue going to be obtained to pay the necessary expenditures of operating and maintaining the plant, including salaries, repairs and proper care of the machinery and equipment, and the probable annual interest charge on the bonds? A $700,000 bond issue, which is now believed will be the least possible sum the municipal plant will be completed for, means an annual interest charge of $29,000.

Everybody knows that the only source of revenue for the municipal plant will be what is realized from water consumers.

But when another well-conducted private plant is operated in our city, having as its patrons nearly all our available water consumers, by what method is the municipal plant to obtain these patrons?

This private water company advertises that it will furnish filtered water to its consumers "at a price that will retain their patronage."

A large majority of the leading business men of Newark have come to recognize that this problem of maintenance of the proposed municipal water plant is the chief one that affects our city at the present time and the one that deserves the most serious consideration. Many of these business men agree that the time has come when something should be done on practical business lines to solve the problem.

BAILEY'S FRIENDS WILL FORCE VOTE

SAY HE WILL BE COMPELLED TO RESIGN IF CHARGES ARE PROVED.

Declare They Will Not Allow a Postponement of the Vote on His Election Tuesday.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 21—The Bailey investigation problem was developed further Sunday by the announcement from the friends of Senator Bailey that a vote will be forced on his election Tuesday and that if subsequently he is proven guilty of certain charges that he will be compelled to resign his senatorship. However, according to his friends, there will be no postponing of the vote on Tuesday.

Bailey's friends are authority for the statement that they will insist upon a hearing to any person who has charges to make. The Bailey followers candidly admitted that they did not want any investigation on account of its annoyance and injustice to the senator, but now that both houses of the legislature have take the initiative in the matter of ordering an investigation, the Bailey adherents say that they intend seeing to it that it is conducted along proper lines.

Representative Cocke stated that he will file charges against Senator Bailey with the senate committee on investigation. A synopsis of the charges that Mr. Cocke makes upon information and belief follows:

That he used his personal, official and political influence in aiding the Waters Pierce Oil company in defeating an ouster suit, for which he was to be assisted in buying a ranch; that he conspired with the Waters-Pierce company and the Standard Oil company to defeat the suit and received $3300 as a retainer; that he used his influence in dismissing certain penalty suits; that he made false statements in the house of representatives regarding certain "hush money"; that he received $100,000 for influence exerted for the oil companies; that he received $250,000 for disposing of certain securities for the Kirby Lumber company through his connection with the Standard and other companies, and that he borrowed $5000 from E. Clay Pierce, of the Water-Pierce company, for the alleged purpose of defeating an investigation of charges against him.

BLAST FOR LAUGHLIN.

Chicago Professor Who Says American Women "Wiggle."

HIT BY KEEN VOLLEY OF WRATH.

Society, the Stage and an English Nobleman Revolt at the Educator's Epithet "Slouches"—"Bally Poor Judgment to Criticise so Ripping a Creature as the American Girl," Declares Lord Turnour.

Society, the stage and an English lord have risen in an instant and indignant refutation of the assertion made by Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin of the University of Chicago that American women are "wigglers" and "slouches," says the New York American.

Mrs. Robert Osborn, Miss Louise Dresser of the "About Town" company and young Lord Turnour of shawl-coat fame recently expressed themselves both forcibly and picturesquely regarding the amazing assertion of the man from the Rockefeller university.

"Brazen hardihood," said Mrs. Osborn as she ran her hands over her $50,000 pearl necklace.

"He must wear green goggles and look cross eyed," added Miss Dresser as she posed for her conception of what Professor Laughlin means by a "wiggle."

"Nervy chap, that professor," declared Lord Turnour. "Bally poor judgment to criticise so rippling a creature as the American girl."

What Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin said to his class in political economy, the words which have aroused the ire of women throughout the country, are as follows:

The wiggling, swaying movements of American women on the streets and the stage have made them the ridicule of Europe. They have a glide and a wiggle that make them both undignified and ungraceful.

American women live too much in a state of slouchiness in dress, manner, intellect and language. What we need is a sense of form. It is something that is very scarce among American women. It is indeed the rarest sense there is in the country.

As indicative of what the New York woman of fashion thinks of the Chicago professor's remarks the opinion of Mrs. Robert Osborn is of interest.

"What an impossible sort of a person this Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin must be," she said. "Really, I hardly think it worth while to answer his criticisms because of their utter absurdity. American women don't wiggle. Neither are they slouchy or undignified. In fact, I really believe that American women and girls have more grace and verve than any others in the world.

"If American women wiggle I have not seen them do so. Of course possibly I do not observe women as closely as the Chicago person, but I have watched them enough to know that they are anything but slouchy. In fact, one of the truest criticisms of American women is that if anything they are too rushing in their movements. We don't have time to wiggle and slouch. We are in too great a hurry. Haven't you observed the haste with which American girls get about?"

My Lord Turnour exhibited genuine amazement at the charges.

"Only an American would dare make such an assertion," he said after reading Professor Laughlin's criticisms.

"Bally poor judgment, I should say, and, bah Jove, I can't see how he can criticise so ripping a creature as the American girl. I am glad enough to observe that I've never observed a wiggle or a slouch in the movements of any American girl I've yet had the pleasure of either meeting or seeing. I fahncy you reporter persons will aid American femininity in properly making the professor come a cropper in his mental gymnastics."

If Lord Turnour shed an illuminating glow upon the rash remarks of Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin beautiful Louise Dresser, one of the stars in Lew Fields' "About Town," displays him in the full glare of the limelight of criticism.

"Poor, fussy old man!" she said. "I am not so certain that he is old, but he is dreadfully finicky. Of that I'm certain. Why, he must wear green goggles and look cross eyed when he gazes at us. I know he gazes. That sort of man always does.

"Who ever saw an American girl wiggle? And as for slouchiness, I don't believe the Chicago professor ever walked down Fifth avenue or Broadway in his life, let alone State street in Chicago. Speaking for my own sex, I simply laugh at the very absurdity of Professor Laughlin's savage remarks. He has never seen a New York show girl; he has never seen a New York chorus girl; he surely has never seen a New York woman of fashion. American girls don't have to wiggle to attract attention. They don't slouch, because they desire to attract honest admiration too much. They are certainly the very antithesis of being undignified and ungraceful.

"Watch foreign women coming from the steamers and compare them with the American girl, and I believe you will have the strongest possible answer to the ungallant and extremely impertinent remarks of this professor in Chicago."

Chuck Conners put the finishing touch to Professor Laughlin's statement.

"Cinnamon buns! Nottin' to't. De profess' got de pip in de head. Don't git fly to how dem Chikiggy loidies could be much on de wiggle anyhow wit' de size o' deir kickers. Wiggle? Nix! Never got me lights on one since I've been on de Bow'ry."

ADMIRAL IS SNUBBED

and the admiral began with the arrival of the American war vessels, when the governor objected to the firing of a salute in his honor on the ground that the citizens might mistake the firing for a new earthquake. He also declared there was no necessity for American aid—that his government was fully able to preserve order, tend the wounded and succor the homeless. Rear Admiral Davis, however, landed parties of bluejackets, who patrolled the streets, cleared the debris, razed ruins, attended many of the wounded, and won the highest praise from citizens and military officers for excellent work.

Final Interview.

When Rear Admiral Davis called at headquarters house to bid farewell to Governor Swettenham he waited 15 minutes. He then informed the governor's aid that he would wait no longer, and requested him to tell the governor that in consequence of his attitude in not desiring American aid he had countermanded President Roosevelt's order dispatching the supply ship Celtic, laden with beef, for the relief of Kingston. Governor Swettenham arriving at that moment, there was a brief private meeting, and the governor escorted Rear Admiral Davis to his carriage. Salutations were exchanged and the governor, replying to Rear Admiral Davis' regret that he was unable to do more for Kingston, said "All the more to your honor," aidding a deep bow, evidently in reply to Admiral Davis' reference to his departure, and meaning that he would do the same if in the admiral's place.

The streets of the burned district still reek with the stench of decaying bodies. Many bodies were recovered through the aid of vultures, which perch in flocks on the ruins beneath which their prey is buried. As fast as they are uncovered the bodies are thrown on the funeral pyres and slowly consumed. The known dead are about 450, and it is believed there are at least 150 persons who have not been accounted for. Food is coming into the city from the country districts, but a famine is greatly feared.

Rear Admiral Davis' Report.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Rear Admiral Davis, at Kingston, in his report on the situation in the stricken city, announces that the governor declined his offer to land wrecking parties to assist in the hospital, police streets, clear away the debris and bury the dead, but that later by request he landed bluejackets to prevent an alleged mutiny at the penitentiary (since withdrawn). The West Indian regiment and the insular constabulary are guarding the town. The admiral reports that there was no tidal wave, and that the fire which followed the earthquake reached even the remote portion of the suburbs.

SENATOR WHYTE MAKES REPLY TO SECRETARY ROOT

Revival of Hamilton's Centralizing Scheme Deprecated—Republicans Not Taking Up Gauntlet.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Senator Whyte of Maryland delivered the second in the series of speeches to be delivered by prominent Democrats in answer to Secretary Root's centralization address in New York. The intention is to provoke the Republicans into defending Secretary Root and thus bring up a question that may be used as an issue in the next Presidential campaign. There has been no indication by the Republicans that they will pay the least attention to the subject.

This is the first speech delivered by Senator Whyte since his return to the Senate after an absence of twenty-five years. His voice was strong and his delivery as eloquent as during his former service. Mr. Whyte is now in his eighty-third year. The position he took was that the Government is a "confederated republic, established by the people of the States, and not by the aggregated people of the United States." He deprecated the revival by a great and honored lawyer, holding a high place in the Government," of "centralizing and aristocratic scheme of Alexander Hamilton, which the framers of the Constitution rejected.

Concluding, Mr. Whyte said: "I feel confident that the wise distribution of powers between the Federal Government is ample sufficient to protect us from the supposed dangerous tendency of the times, if the sovereign people of the states upon whom both governments rest for safety, will take warning in time and resist with reason the efforts of such political thought."

SENATORS UNITE AGAINST FORAKER

REPUBLICANS AGREE ON COMPROMISE RESOLUTION SUPPORTING AMENDMENT.

Ohio Senator Says All He Cares for Is An Investigation of the Incident.

Washington, Jan. 21.—As a result of several conferences of Republican senators held Sunday to consider the Blackburn amendment to the Foraker resolution relative to the President's discharge of the negro troops, and in which President Roosevelt participated, a decision was reached to draft a resolution along the lines of the original Ledge resolution, which will meet the approval of Senator Blackburn. This resolution will be introduced by a Republican and will be supported by both the Republican and Democratic senators, who take the position that the "senate had no legal right to question the action of the President."

Senator Foraker took no part in any of the conferences and declared that he would vote against the Blackburn amendment if the question is brought before the senate.

The Ohio senator said that he really did not care whether the resolution was adopted or voted down.

"All that I care for," he said, "is an investigation of the whole affair in order that the real facts may be laid before the senate."

Senators Lodge, Knox, Hansbrough, Crane and Aldrich are said to have taken part in the conference which resulted in the decision to substitute a compromise resolution for the Blackburn amendment. The President expressed himself as being satisfied with the Blackburn amendment and declared that he was anxious that it be submitted to a vote in the senate.

tion coach and but two of these have been identified, as the bodies were almost entirely consumed by the flames. The dead included the train crew. Henry Alcott, Cincinnati, fireman, was instantly killed. The collision occurred 500 feet from a switch near this place. The passenger train in the heavy fog ran by a telegraphic block signal to stop. The red light was not seen. The engine and tender telescoped the combination coach, causing a mass of wreckage, under which the passengers in the car were wedged.

BOILER BLEW OUT.

Disaster Overtakes a Locomotive, Three Men Being Killed.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 21.—In the explosion of the boiler of a Reading engine attached to one of the Atlantic City flyers, at Blue Anchor, the engineer, Edward McConaghy; the fireman, Frederick Arthur, and an extra fireman named Clark, were instantly killed. No passengers were hurt. The flyer was the express from Atlantic City to Camden, and it had just passed Blue Anchor when the explosion came without warning. The cause will never be known, for the lifeless forms of engineer and firemen were found in the debris. Clark, it is said, was off duty, and was returning to his home in Camden.

FRAZEYSBURG CHURCH.

The remarkable growth of the Frazeysburg Presbyterian church of which the Rev. G. W. Applegate of this city is pastor, is attracting attention over the entire district.

Recently the church completed repairs amounting to $1,100, the entire sum being raised by voluntary subscription. The auditorium was redecorated and refitted and is now above the average in this city in point of elegance and convenience. At the reopening exercises held two weeks ago, after the church had been closed for two months undergoing repairs, the treasurer's report showed $3.55 of the repair fund on hand beside $800 left over on the parsonage fund.

The Frazeysburg church has a membership of 150 and its rapid and successful progress is being watched with interest by the citizens and members of the church.

PLACES PROHIBITED TO CHILDREN UNDER 18 YEARS OF AGE.

Keepers of Such Places Notified to Keep Children Out of Them Children Notified to Keep Out of Them.

The attention of all persons interested is called to the following from the new Juvenile Court law:

THE LAW.

Section 1. . . . The words "delinquent child" shall include any child, seventeen years of age or under such age, who . . . . . knowingly visits or enters a house of ill repute, or who knowingly patronizes or visits any policy shop or place where any gambling device is, or shall be operated; o rwho patronizes or visits any saloon or dram shop where intoxicating liquors are sold; or who patronizes or visits and public pool room or bucket shop . . .

THE PENALTY.

Sec. 23. In all cases where any child shall be a delinquent, dependent, or a neglected child, as defined by the statutes of this state, the parent or parents, or other person or persons, responsible for the abandonment, or by an act causing, encouraging or contributing to such delinquency, dependency or neglect, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon trial and conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not to exceed $1,000, or imprisonment in the county jail or workhouse, for a period of not to exceed one year or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The above is only a small portion of Section 1, defining offenses which make a child under 18 years of age a "delinquent child" within the meaning of the law.

The special attention of all children under 18 years of age, is called to the fact that the above named places are prohibited places and that the strictest penalty of the law will be visited upon any such child found visiting such places.

The special attention of the keepers and proprietors of the above named prohibited places is also called to the above law and its penalty. Every violation of this law that is brought before this court will be rigidly punished; and it will be to the interest of the proprietors of the above named places to keep children out of them.

Whatever else is, or is not done, the children must be protected.

AMUSEMENTS

PEARL ABBOTT,

As the Athletic Girl in George Ade's Great Comedy, "The College Widow," at the Auditorium, Tuesday Night.

The third act of "The College Widow," which comes to the Auditorium Tuesday, Jan. 22, shows a portion of the grand [illegible] during the Thanksgiving Day football game between Atwater and Bingham Colleges, two inland institutions of learning which might be any other two in the United States, so pointed and apt is George Ade's satire. There is an old rivalry between the two schools and the stand groans with an eager, jostling, cheering crowd. Flags waiving, horns tooting, and everyone excitedly following the struggle on the gridiron, the picture is a [illegible] exemplification of stage craft that carries the audience off its feet. The dramatic pitch is never lowered in this act. As the various characters describe the progress of the battle, the interest waxes intense until at the finish, when the victorious Atwater eleven appears begrimed and bespattered on the shoulders of the crowd, the audience finds itself cheering with the actors. It is a really wonderful bit of realism and had "The College Widow" nothing else to recommend it, this scene alone would carry it to success. But Ade does not depend upon that act alone.

THE MAN ON THE BOX.

Henry E. Dixey, who it must be generally admitted, is by all right America's foremost comedian, comes to the Auditorium Wednesday evening, January 23, in a clean, laughable comedy, which not only gives him the best chance he has ever had for the fitting display of his many talents, but which has scored a genuine success on its own merits as a play, in every city in which it has appeared. Of Mr. Dixey it is only necessary to say that he has never been seen to greater advantage, for Dixey at his best means an evening of unalloyed theatrical enjoyment.

His play is "The Man on the Box" a dramatization by Grace L. Furniss of Harold McGrath's celebrated novel of that title, and is produced under the management of Mr. Walter N. Lawrence, whose name is synonymous with clean, healthy, wholesome and successful plays. No more artistic and beautiful setting was ever given a play than he has provided for "The Man in the Box" and Mr. Dixey's supporting company is unique in that every member was selected for some especial fitness for the character he or she is to play. "Good acting and plenty of it," began one New York critic's review, and that this is what people want is attested by the fact that Mr. Dixey's great play at the Madison Square theater, New York critic's review, and that this at the Lyric.

The play tells a romantic [illegible] story, its hero being a dare devil young army officer who to pique the interest of a girl with whom he is in love, usurps the place of her coachman, runs away with her and is arrested for reckless driving. Finally he takes service as her groom for a short time, and ultimately impresses her so favorably with his manliness, breeding and capability, that he wins her love and all ends happily to the tune of Lohengrin's wedding march.

THE CLANSMAN THURSDAY.

Local theater goers are keenly interested in the announcement that the original company and production of "The Clansman" will be seen at the Auditorium Thursday, January 24. This it will be remembered, is the famous Ku Klux Klan play that turned the country upside down last year with its audacious handling of the race problem. "The Clansman" holds the record as being the most widely discussed the most violently attacked and hotly defended play produced within the last fifty years. It has been variously described as an answer and as a sequel to "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The later play, however deals with the reconstruction era in the south, while Mrs. Stowe's play treated of slavery days.

The hero of "The Clansman" is a young and gallant leader of the Ku Klux Klan. Opposed to him are an ambitious mulatto and a white Abolitionist from Pennsylvania, whose daughter the young man seeks in marriage. The first act shows the [illegible] young leader defying the powers that ruled by tearing down a proclamation that promised bayonets to protect marriages between whites and blacks, and the second act shows the sale of his ancestral homestead to satisfy taxes levied by negroes and carpetbaggers. In the third act the Ku Klux Klan vote the death of a black ruffian who has frightened a young girl to leaping to her death over a precipice. The last act shows the mulatto lieutenant governor of South Carolina, confronting the Abolitionist his friend and protector, with a demand for the hand of the latter's daughter. The effect is electrical. The old man spurns the presumptious suitor; forbids him ever to approach his home again and goads the mulatto to such a fury that only the timely arrival of the Ku Klux Klan saves the old man and his daughter.

The phenomenal success of "The Clansman" can only be attributed to the fact that it is a great play as a play. All of the talk about it could not have attracted such tremendous audiences as have filled theaters everywhere if it had not been one of the greatest plays of the century. It was the most sensational success of the season last year, and the present outlook is still more favorable.

WILLIAMS AND WALKER.

Years ago, when to make the public laugh was much more of an art than it is today, Williams and Walker who in "Abyssinia" entered upon a [illegible] as fun makers and the reputation they made then has lived on until the presentation of their latest and by far their best effort. "Abyssinia" which will be seen at the Auditorium on Friday, January 25, is a musical comedy written, sung, staged and acted throughout by colored folks. J. A. Shipp is the maker of the book, the lyrics are by Alex. Rogers and the music by Will Marion Cook. As a whole the production is a good one, and well worth seeing.

HOOLIGAN IN NEW YORK.

Picturing a phase of life in a big city that cannot fail to excite the interest of all patrons of the drama, Hooligan in New York" is full of sensational scenes, original comedy situations and thrilling climaxes. It comes to the Auditorium Saturday, matinee and night, January 26. Scenically the production is unusually elaborate, five complete sets being carried, each one of which is a work of art.

THE HEIR TO THE HOORAH.

The west and the south endorsed the favorable verdict rendered by New York and Boston, when they saw for the first time last season Paul Armstrong's sprightly comedy, "The Heir to the Hoorah." The miners and cowpunchers made the same successful appeal to the west, that thoroughly know their prototypes, as they did to the eastern public, which, perforce, accepted Mr. Armstrong, a chacater portraiture on trust. This funniest of American comedies will shortly be seen again at the Auditorium.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

An entirely new bill will be seen at the Orphium this afternoon and evening, and the names of the various artists promise a good show. There are Clark and Temple, in comedy sketches; Morgan and Crone the Tally Ho Duo; Koope, comedy juggler; The Orriels, marionette hippodrome; Mrs Hazel Bliss in illustrated songs, and the Orphiumoscope with 1000 feet of new picture films.

Y. M. C. A.

To Conduct B. & O. Apprentice School—Lively Progress Evident in Local "Y."

Announcement has been made that the B. & O. railroad will establish an apprentice school for the apprentices in the shops along its lines.

Arrangements have been made with the local Y M. C. A. to conduct the school in Newark in connection with the Y. M. C. A. night school. The instruction will include a four years' course in mathematics and mechanical drawing. This is an advanced step along the line of industrial education that promises much for the industrial workers of this country.

A movement is on in many of our large cities to enforce school work in connection with the apprenticeship of the different trades. The labor leaders as well as the employes see the necessity of this.

There are about 80 apprentices in the local shops whom this new move will effect.

Order has been given for all apprentices of the B. & O. shops to meet the master mechanic at the Y. M. C. A. class rooms next Monday night at 8 o'clock. Full particulars of the course, time and nature of the course will be given at that time.

The apprentice will not only receive the advantage of an established school with the best instructors obtainable in the city, but the splendid equipment and other advantages that the Y. M. C. A. offers will add much to the pleasure of the school.

The presence of such an organization in our city, which stands ready to serve the young men of the community in any line of self improvement, is an advantage to the city of which our business men show a large appreciation and hearty support.

Another way in which the Y. M. C. A. will largely increase its influence is the big membership campaign announced for next week. In connection with this campaign three free nights are announced. Saturday night was "Red" night. Monday is "Blue" night. The privileges of the Association are extended to all men of the city. Free bowling, pool and bath tickets will be given to all visitors.

A novel scheme for indicating the progress of the [illegible] will be a race course with two [illegible] fed horses contending for supremacy.

A large clock in front of the Y. M. C. A. building will register the new members as they come in. Watch for the blue or red flag to tell who is ahead. Captain Stephan has arranged a good time for Monday evening, when all the "Blues" will be on hand.

MILLION DOLLARS TO BE EXPENDED

BY THE B. & O. IN MAKING VAST IMPROVEMENTS AT CHICAGO JUNCTION.

Sixty Miles of New Siding Will Be Laid and New Transfer House Will Be Built.

An authoritative statement has been made by the B. & O. railroad officials of the new million dollar improvement which is to be made in the yards of the company at Chicago Junction. The yards are to be the most complete and modern on the entire B. & O. railroad system. The company is now receiving bids for the different kinds of works that is to be done. It is expected that these bids will be opened the first of next month and that the successful contractors will begin work immediately so that the yards may be completed as soon as possible.

The new improvements to be made in the yards will consist of about 75 additional sidetracks, a new transfer house, a new round house, and machine shops. There will be about 60 miles of tracks laid in what are to be known as the west yards and they will extend 2 3-4 miles west from the present passenger depot. Owing to the fact that Chicago Junction is a great transfer point for freight from the four different divisions which center there, it has become necessary to build a large new transfer house. This building will be 800 feet long and 24 feet wide and from 15 to 20 tracks will be utilized in transferring the freight. The cost of the new yards and the transfer house will be a million dollars, and this added to the cost of the round house, machine shops and other buildings now under construction will bring thhe total amount spent at Chicago to about $1,250,000. It is expected that all the work will be finished within the present year.

DR. J. E. ENNIS

OF ATLANTA, GA., ADDRESSES THE PEOPLE OF NEWARK ON A MATTER OF HEALTH.

"To Whom it May Concern: Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines, their value and power to cure.

"I want to say to the people of Newark that I believe the most valuable cod liver oil preparation, the best body builder, health restorer and strength creator known to medicine today is Vinol.

"While Vinol does not contain the system-clogging oil of old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, it actually does contain all the curative medicinal principles of the cod's liver in a highly concentrated form, with tonic iron added, and it is delicious to take.

"I advise Vinol in my practice, and find it has no equal for healing coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and sore lungs.

"I have used Vinol in many cases of indigestion, mal-assimilation, and for patients who were anaemic and rundown with splendid results. I have also found Vinol to be a boon to the aged.

"I believe Vinol to be well worthy of any honest physician's endorsement."

We sell Vinol to the people of Newark on an offer to refund money if it fails to benefit. Frank D. Hall, druggist.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Newark, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

FRANKLIN A. BROOKS

Formerly of the Orphium, Now Manager of the Vaudeville Theater in Richmond, Ind.

An Advocate representative in Richmond, Ind., this week, called on Mr Franklin A. Brooks who, with his wife, left the Orphium theatre here a week ago to become assistant manager of the New Phillips, Sun & Murray's vaudeville theatre there. To Mr Brooks' surprise, upon his being in Richmond a few days Mr O. G. Murray, who had ben managing the house personally, appointed Mr Brooks manager in order that he Mr Murray might be out over the circuit more of the time.

Mr Brooks' many friends in the city will be glad to learn that he is "making good" so far and, even during his short stay in Richmond has already cultivated a number of friends.

Those who are acquainted with Mr Brooks are quick to predict for him much success as manager of the theatre, as he is a man of much ability, pleasing personality and one of extensive experience in the show business.

Mr. Brooks came to Newark from Rochester, N. Y., before going to Richmond. Mrs Brooks, who w[illegible] cal director at the Orphium [illegible] holds a similar position in the Richmond theatre.

ENEMIES OF JUDGE BEN LINDSEY ARE PLANNING TO PASS MEASURE

Which Will Take Away His Powers as a Juvenile Court, But the Judge's Friends are Rallying Nobly to His Support at Denver.

Denver, Jan. 21.—The political enemies of Judge Ben B. Lindsey, father of the juvenile court, a judge of the court of the county and city of Denver, are after his scalp Lindsey's reforms have met with their displeasure. The "red light" element claims its rights have been abridged It is this element that is stirring up the trouble. In the lobbies of the legislature plans are being made to slap at the man who has taken the lead in the work of uplifting the young who are brought into court A measure is planned to take away the powers of the judge. According to the present law the judge of the juvenile court may fine a saloonkeeper, pool room proprietor or other persons connected with the evils of the day for "contributing to juvenile delinquency" The burden of reform is placed on the dayekeeper, who must ascertain the age of the youth, boy or girl, and then order the youth away and not permit the frequenting of the place There is a jail sentence and heavy fine for one who "contributes" in violation of the law. Lindsey has so far wisely ruled in the cases before him, impartial observers say, and has sent many a saloonkeeper to jail.

Who Will Speak at the Audit orium, on Friday, February 15.

The friends of the Judge are rallying to his support and an attempt to cut his powers will be met by a well organized army, once the bill is presented to the legislature.

The above telegram will be read with interest by Newark citizens, as Judge Lindsey has been secured through the efforts of Mrs M. A. Swan to speak in the Auditorium, February 15 on this subject

RECORD BROKEN FOR CONTAGION IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Jan 21.—Pestilence spread over Chicago Sunday as though scattered by the wind. All records were broken in the report of 155 cases of contagion for the day. Five deaths were added to the list of epidemic victims while city hall officials continue to dispute each others authority to find the cause of the plague and check its dissemination

FLOOD

pound of the fuel or any freight at all

WATER SURROUNDS TOWN.

Aurora, Ind., Jan. 21—Entirely surrounded by water and one-half of the town flooded is the situation here. The entire business section is cut off from the upper part of the town and ferries between upper stories of business houses and the residential section have been established. It is generally believed however, that the worst stage of the flood has been reached, as little more damage would be done by a rise of a few feet.

By Storm and Flood.

Evansville, Ind, Jan. 21. — A high windstorm which has been raging in this vicinity adds greatly to the misery existing as the result of flood conditions. Reports received from nearby cities tell the same story of destruction and loss by the combined flood and storm. Houses owned by D. W. Wilson, Nora Platt and D. Burton were washed away by the wind above Newburg, a small settlement up the river. Burton escaped from his house by tying rafters enough together to support his weight. He paddled to land after being on the water six hours. He is in a critical condition, the result of his experience. Across the river from Newburg the situation is worse than anywhere else, the people in their homes there being caught between Green river and the Ohio.

Thousands Homeless.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 21.—With the Ohio river maintaining a steady rise of an inch an hour, Kentucky streams contributing their volumes from the mountain regions, a high wind blowing up stream all day, damaging shipping and preventing the rapid passing of the current, Louisville faces a flood situation which promises to equal, before the crest is passed, the stage of 1884, the greatest flood ever known to the city. Thousands of people are homeless and are housed in school buildings, warehouses and other structures. Factories in this city, Jeffersonville and New Albany are closed, throwing hundreds of people out of work; stocks of merchandise in the business houses along the river front are ruined, much lumber has been washed away and many small houses with their contents toppled over into the water. A conservative estimate of the damage done, with the crest of the flood yet two days off, is a quarter of a million dollars.

Levees Gave Way.

Portsmouth, O., Jan. 21.—A terrific storm and the sudden breaking of the levees caused Portsmouth a night of terror Only a few scattered portions of the city have escaped the flood. Hundreds of people were asleep in their homes when the mad rush of the waters from the Scioto came, and scores had remarkable escapes from drowning. The water rose so rapidly that people had no time to save anything, and few could render any assistance to the helpless. It was necessary to chop in the roof to rescue some imprisoned families. Many found refuge in box cars and on housetops. Much live stock was lost.

Flee From Homes.

Carmi, Ill., Jan. 21. — Hundreds of residents of Shawneetown have arrived here, having fled from their homes in fear of the flooded Ohio river. There is plenty of shelter to provide for those who have arrived, and unless the conditions at Shawneetown become worse there will be no need to use the tents which have been received from Springfield.

Dwellings Wrecked.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 21.—The heavy wind lashed the flooded Ohio river into waves that rolled many feet high and added very largely to the flood damage in this vicinity. In Central City the plant of the Central Veneer company was totally wrecked. In Proctorville, Ceredo and Catlettsburg many dwelling houses in the flooded territory were battered to pieces.

There are 20,212 automobiles owned within 50 miles of New York City Hall.

I. N. Wilson administrator etc., vs. Chas O Wilson, et al, motion for leave to file answer and cross petition overruled Ferry; Flory & Flory, Kibler & Montgomery.

Answer in Gas Lease Case.

In the case of Thomas M. Arnold vs. Fred L Bach and Lillie E. Bach, the defendants have filed an answer The admit that they sold the property described in plaintiff's petition; and they admit that at the time of the sale there was a gas lease on the premises and that the gas lease rental was paid to them, btu they deny all the other allegations. They say that when they executed and delivered the deed for the premises they had an agreement with Thomas M. Arnold, to whom the property was conveyed, that they, the defendants, should receive the gas lease rental which was then due or about due, which was done. They also say that there was an agreement that the defendants should pay the December taxes, and that the plaintiff should pay the following June taxes. Wherefore defendants ask judgment. J. R Fitzgibbon, attorney for defendants.

Mtoion for Security of Costs.

In the case of Wason Price vs. John H. Hawley, the defendant has filed a motion asking the court to require the plaintiff to give security for costs in this action, on the ground that he is a non-resident of the county Kibler & Montgmery, attorneys for defendant.

Answer of Joseph Georgetti.

In the case of P. Phelan vs Fritz & Georgetti, the defendant Joseph Georgetti has filed his answer. He says that he is not a member of the partnership of Fritz & Georgetti, and has no interest in the case. He asks that he be dismissed from this action and recover from plaintiff his costs. Kibler & Montgomery, attorneys.

Answer to Petition.

In the case of Jacob H. Miller vs. Gilbert C Daugherty and others. Elizabeth Daugherty as executrix of the last will and testament of Gilbert C Daugherty, deceased and others, has filed her answer. She says that on October 5, 1901, the defendants Gilbert C Daugherty, Thomas Ward and Wm. M. Sheppard sold to Wm Veach, John P. Lamb, A. H Heisey, J. J. Carroll and George W. Havens, to each, the undivided one-eighth interest in the lease mentioned That the defendants own and operate the property as partners under the name of the Long Run Oil and Gas company; that in August, 1902, for a valuable consideration the defendants, Wm M. Sheppard and Thomas Ward sold all their interest in the lease to G C Daugherty, Wm Veach, J. J. Carroll, A. H. Heisey, J. P Lamb and G. W. Havens Defendants ask that the petition of the plaintiff be dismissed.

POULTRY SHOW

The entries in the different classes are coming in rapidly, and all indications point to the largest exhibit of pure bred poultry ever held in Central Ohio.

Chickens from adjoining states will be here, while entries will be made by at least 15 different counties in Ohio, besides from nearly every part of Licking county, to say nothing of the large number of birds which will be exhibited by breeders in and around Newark, which would of itself make a very creditable exhibit alone.

Zanesville breeders are coming in full force with quite a large exhibit, and the indications are that a hot and lively contest will be on between the fanciers of Newark and Zanesville, which will of course, be unusually interesting.

There will be quite a showing of incubators and brooders, and other poultry supplies, as three firms will be represented, and chicks will be hatched during the show

The association has purchased 250 beautiful silk ribbon badges, and 17 silver cups which will be awarded to prize winners. The cups and badges are on exhibit in the show window of Seymour & Rexroth on the south side of the square.

The expert judge, Ben S Myers of Crawfordsville, Ind., will, on account of the exceedingly large entry of birds, arrive in the city on Monday evening, Jan. 28, and the judging will begin Tuesday morning January 29, as the exhibit opens at that time and continues until Saturday, February 2, and will be open to the public both day and evenings

A gossamer covering of beauty bestowed by Satin skin powder 25c.

NEWARK DOG SHOW WILL BE SUCCESS

The plans for the dog show to be given by Newark dog fanciers next month, are working out nicely and there is every indication that there will be a large number of entries Entry blanks and applications were mailed out Saturday to several hundred fanciers in Newark and vicinity and it is believed that the exhibition will take well here.

A question was raised a day or two ago as to whether American Kennel club dogs could be entered in the Newark show this being what is called an "open show." The judge, Scott Jones, as appealed to and he wired H. O. Lippincott, one of the promoters that in an open show, any dog could be entered.

Those at the head of the Newark show will act in accordance to the decision of the judge in this matter.

S.S.S. OUR RECORD 40 YEARS OF CURES

The value of S. S. S. as a blood purifier has been thoroughly proven by its forty years of successful service in the treatment of blood and skin diseases of every character. It is the best known and most generally used blood medicine on the market to-day because in the forty years of its existence it has not disappointed those who have used it, and as a result of its universal success in curing disease it has made friends EVERYWHERE. It has been on the market for forty years, and its record in that time is one of which we are justly proud—it is a record of forty years of cures. As a remedy for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all diseases arising from an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, S. S. S. has no equal. It goes into the circulation and thoroughly cleanses it of all impurities and makes a complete and lasting cure of these troubles and disorders. It furnishes to weak, polluted blood, rich, health-giving and health-sustaining qualities, and as this pure, fresh stream circulates through the system, all parts of the body are invigorated and made strong and healthy. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine on the market that can claim absolute freedom from minerals in any form. This great medicine is the product of nature's forests and fields, and is made from the healing, cleansing juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks. It is, therefore, in addition to being a certain cure for blood troubles, an absolutely safe medicine for young or old. It is not an experiment to use S. S. S.; it is a remedy with a record and one that has proven its worth and ability by its forty years of cures. If you need a blood remedy begin the use of S. S. S., and write our physicians and they will send you a book concerning your trouble, and will give you, without charge, any medical advice.

WHAT IS LOVE

By Byron Williams.

"Pray, what is love?" scoffed the cynic, Hate.
"Nothing but heartache at Folly's fete;
Naught but a bubble by Fancy blown;
Chaos and torment by Passion sown!"

"Love," cried the lover, "is bliss divine;
Strained are life's joys for affection's wine!"
"Love is the light," quoth the maiden sweet,
"Bringing Arcadia to my feet!"

"Bah!" sneered the cynic, with taunting glee—
"Love is a rainbow; be off with thee!"

Kissing the curls of her baby boy,
Then spake the mother in trembling joy
"Love is a worship of sacred zest,
Having its home in my throbbing breast
Love is a chorus within my soul,
Guiding me safely from woe-strewn shoal!
Love is a spark of immortal fire,
Lifting my life to its great desire!
Love is my hope—take it not away,
Lest thou take all but the worthless clay!"

Holding her cherub, she passed along,
Crooning in gladness love's old, sweet song!
"Love," said the cynic, "is real and true,
God help the loveless, like me—or you!"

Merely A Rondel

Through apple-blossomed ways they strolled
Where zephyrs in a vortex meet,
And through the interstices rolled
The golden sunlight at their feet!

And she was dainty, fair, and sweet
And fashioned in a queenly mold.
He felt himself grow brashly bold
Where zephyrs in a vortex meet!

Ah! list his passioned love unfold
In fervent phrases strong and fleet!
And in a beam of sunlit gold
Their lips in fervent kisses meet!
Through apple-blossomed Life they stroll
In sweet communion, to the goal!

Street Suit For School Girl.

Brown and black checked cloth was used for the young girl's street frock shown in the sketch, the model being of the plainly tailored variety, with a short plaited skirt and a semi-fitting coat. The coat had a seam from the shoulder both in the front and back, and was made double-breasted. There was a pocket on each hip and on the left side of the front.

YOUNGSTOWN HAS CONFLAGRATION

CROSSED WIRES CAUSE FIRE LOSS OF THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION.

Fraternity House at Gambier Destroyed by Fire—Cincinnati Also Suffers.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 21.—Fire, thought to have been caused by the crossing of electric wires in the basement of the building occupied by the H. L. McElroy company, furniture dealers, on West Federal street, completely destroyed that building and the adjoining one ocupied by J. N. Euwers Sons company, dry goods dealers. The Eastman hotel, facing on Commerce street, which opened for business a few days ago, was entirely destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $700,000, with insurance about two-thirds.

Right of Way Secured.

Lima, O., Jan. 21.—Right of way has been taken up and franchises secured through the village of Lafayette and town of Ada for an electric trolley road extension of the city lines here, under lease to the Schoepf-Morgan system. The survey is an air line parallel to the Pennsylvania railroad, and it is rumored will be later extended as far east as Bucyrus, becoming then a part of the Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima, now in operation.

Wreck on Traction Line.

Bryan, O., Jan. 21.—Joseph N. Good, motorman, was killed, and Williard Broadhurst, conductor, was severely injured when a passenger car on the Toledo & Indiana traction line ran into a box car which was blown off a siding onto the track by the high wind Good was pinioned in the wreckage and his body was cremated before it could be removed.

Woman Drowns.

Upper Sandusky, O., Jan. 21. — A furious windstorm which swept this vicinity caused the loss of one life and thousands of dollars damage to property. Miss Kate Goetz, while walking along a road, was blown into a flooded ditch and drowned. Scores of derricks were blown down in the oil fields and many houses were unroofed.

Food For Fire.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 21.—Fire, starting on the fourth floor of the establishment of Hill & Griffith company, founders' supplies, in the West End, destroyed that concern and also burned most of the foundry of the William Resor company, adjoining, causing a loss estimated at over $400,000.

Pleaded Guilty to Bigamy.

Chillicothe, O., Jan. 21. — Benjamin A. Holden, ex-soldier, who was recently brought back to this county from Seattle, Wash., and was indicted by the grand jury for bigamy, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Immediately after his second wife was granted a divorce.

Fine Furs Carried Away.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 21.—Two business houses less than half a block from the Hammond street police station were entered and robbed of $5,000 worth of fine furs. The H. J. Weiler company and the Apple Millinery company were the losers. Only the more valuable goods were taken.

Caused by Leak.

Gambier, O., Jan. 21. — The house used by the local chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and which is owned by Kenyon college, was destroyed by fire with a loss of $13,000. It is believed that the fire was caused by a leak in the gas pipes.

River Receding.

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—The flood in the Scioto river, which reached the danger point and threatened serious damage in this city, began Sunday evening to subside. The severe windstorm which swept the state caused only minor damage here.

Farmer a Suicide.

Plain City, O., Jan. 21.—William M. Wilson, 65, a farmer who owned about 1,500 acres of land six miles southwest of Plain City, hanged himself. He leaves a daughter and one son.

"The Good Old Times."

Good old times are a delusion and a snare, and the man who sighs for them has little conception of what they were. Return to them, would you? Then rise on a cold morning and wash at the pump, pull on a pair of rawhide boots that rival a tin can in stiffness, put on a woolen shirt over your back and sit down to a bare meal with a three legged stool dancing around on a split slab floor: eat corn pone and bacon for a steady diet, and labor 14 hours out of 24 Go without a daily paper, a fly screen, a mosquito bar, a spring mattress, gas lights, and all the modern conveniences. Parch corn and peas for coffee and drink sassafras tea.

In Valencia, on the fete days, the little girls have their hair dressed just exactly like that of their older sisters, having the front locks parted and coiled up into a wheel at each temple, and the back hair elaborately arranged from the nape of the neck to a few inches above the head, the coiffure being held secure by fancy pins.

The largest small ball tournament ever pulled off in Newark was successfully finished Saturday night on Music Hall alleys. As the contest drew near the finish a large crowd gathered and cheer after cheer would go up as the little balls went gliding down the alleys. Until a late hour it looked like Mr. Steelow would carry off high honors with a total of 300 pins, and then Mr. John Bausch bowled a total of 320 and cinched first place. There were just 81 entries but on account of space being limited we will give the score of prize winners only:

First prize—John Bausch; total 320, prize $10.12.

Second prize—Mr. Steelow; total 300; prize $5.05.

Spare prize—John Bausch; total 6; prize $2.00.

Strike prize—T. O. Johnson; total 2; prize $2.00.

High score—S. Wilson; total 119; prize $1.00.

Tonight Odd Five vs. Railroad on the Music Hall alleys.

What promises to be the best small ball tournament of the season will commence on Music Hall alleys today, lasting one week. This is what is called "Rubber Neck" candle pin Prizes will be awarded the same and the same rules govern as in the last tournament.

Great amusement will be derived from this event as the game is practically new in Newark and no person is allowed to bowl in this game except in the tournament.

All persons wishing to take part in this tournament are requested to enter early so as not to interfere with the league games.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL LEAGUE.

In the indoor baseball game at the Y gym Saturday, Central defeated the North Fourth street school by the close score of 7 to 4. The score is considered pretty low for indoor baseball.

The East End took a game from the West End team in a very exciting contest. The West End captain has protested the game claiming that the East Enders played a ringer. If this statement is proven true, the West Enders will get another chance at the East Newark boys.

POLO.

In a game that was fast and exciting, Newark was defeated by the Coshocton team at the Palace rink, Saturday night, by a score of 4 to 1.

The next polo game will be played Thursday night between Newark and Mt. Vernon.

DENISON, 35; O. M. U., 28 .

The O. M. U. basketball team lost the first game of their college schedule to Denison Saturday afternoon by the score of 35 to 28.

Fast, snappy play characterized the whole game and at times football style was introduced. In the last half Pine of Denison, and Dunba rof the Medics, were put out of the game for rough play.

Goals from field—Saunders 7, Schroyer, Swan, Dunbar, Livingston 3, Pine 3, Rogers 2, Spencer. Foul goals—Saunders 8, Livingston 19. Officials—Seymour of O. S. U.; Van Voorhees of Denison, alternating. Timers—Wehr of O. M. U.; White of Denison. Time of halves—20 minutes.

COSHOCTON BACKED DOWN ON GAME HERE.

Manager McClure of the high school basketball team received word from Coshocton Monday, saying that they could not play the scheduled game here Wednesday night. The manager immediately made arrangements with Doane Academy of Granville, to fill the date.

The Coshocton game would have been interesting as Newark has played them twice in the games during the past two years The Doane game will be just as interesting, however.

UTICA TRIES FOOTBALL TACTICS.

In a game which resembled football more than it did basketball, Utica defeated Newark Friday night by a score of 38 to 8. The Utica players forgot their sportsmanship to a great extent and the Newark payers are legislating a big kick. Among the complaints offered by the Newark team is the condition of the playing floor which is also used for a skating rink, pool baskets, etc.

A French marine thinks advantage may be taken of the favorite winds at the edge of a cyclone for facilitating navigation. By means of observations with the barometer and other instruments he would ascertain the direction in which the storm is going and so shape the course of the ship that it would be carried along by the sweep of the atmosphere, without becoming involved in the dangerous center of the storm.

NERVIEST MAN EVER IN ANNEX

SAY PENITENTIARY ATTACHES REGARDING MURDERER FRED CASTER.

Who Was Granted a Reprieve by Governor Harris Until the 15th of February.

Columbus, O., Jan. 21 — Governor Harris granted Fred Caster a reprieve until Feb. 15. No further stay of sentence will be allowed the slayer of Police Officer Dan Davis by the governor, under any circumstances. If he obtains further reprieve it will be by order of a court. The Caster case will be taken to the federal courts.

"Don't worry about me, father; I'll never go to the chair."

So said Frank Caster, murderer of Policeman Dan Davis, who is sentenced to die in the penitentiary on Feb 15.

And when Caster said that the attaches of the big prison said that the nerviest man who was ever in the institution had made the declaration And Caster has the nerve.

It was while engaged in a burglary in East Broad street that he shot and killed a policeman. His trial quickly followed. He was found guilty and was taken to prison to answer the death call.

His attorneys have worked hard different friends have come to the rescue, but through it all Caster remains stoical. He doesn't seem to care a great deal just what is about to happen. A small man is Caster, but what he lacks in muscle and bone he makes up in the nerve centers. Just to show the character of the man, the following is given:

A few nights ago, when the pardon board was in session listening to the pleadings of Caster's lawyers, the murderer sat playing cards with fellow murderers in the prison annex.

About 10 o'clock one of the guards went to the annex and said, "Frank, there's no chance; the board has turned you down."

"So?" was the reply in a mild tone. "Whose lead is it?"

And Caster went on with the card game as though nothing unusual had occurred

The nature of the man is seen by this incident. Caster has the nerve. Whether it is superficial, or comes from the heart is a question. But if he cares as to his fate he gives little evidence of it. In intelligence he is far above the ordianry prisoner. He talks fairly well, reads much and thinks a lot more. Besides he is a confirmed criminal. He has done time before. Through experience he has learned that talk amounts to little unless it is where the judge or jury can hear. Then he can orate with the spellbinders of the day.

But Caster says he will never go to the chair. Maybe he is trying to make himself think so, say the prison attaches.

A woman applied to the Eton Union guardians, in England recently, for the wooden leg which was worn for years by her uncle, who died in the workhouse. Her request was granted, and the woman took the leg home with her.

MRS. C. E. FINK

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value.

This medicine made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Rev. Joseph Bennett held the boys' attention from start to finish of his fine talk. His subject was "Pit Parker's Pod of Peas." Mr. Bennett was exceptionally strong on his illustrations of perception. He told of Sir Isaac Newton seeing the apple, fall and in that perceiving the laws of gravity. He told also of the discovery the pendulum motion, the invention of the iron water pipe, the suspension bridge, all of which were discovered by one man perceiving where thousands of others only saw. He also made a number of very appropriate and interesting chemical experiments to illustrate purity.

Next Sunday Mr. Hall will give the boys a talk on electricity. Mr. Hall is preparing some very interesting illustrations. His talk promises to be right up to the mark, and no boy can afford to miss hearing him.

NOTICE.

NEWARK CAPITAL COULD BE USED

A number of Newark's most prominent and influential citizens have taken up a discussion of the proposed electric line between this city and Mt Vernon and one prominent man said to the Advocate:

"I have been trying for some time to get an answer to the question 'Why does it require capital from New York or some other place in the east to put this road through from Newark to Mt Vernon? It seems to me that, when Newark citizens desire this road, and I know that they do, it is foolish to go to the outside for capital to finance it. Why not sell the stock in reasonable shares to persons in this section of the country? I think that this matter should be agitated an dif these eastern capitalists are not trying to get the right of way just to sell it for a big price there is no more excuse for getting them interested for there are enough moneyed people who would willingly supply the necessary funds without leaving this state to find them."

At Norfolk Va., eight prominent women who attended a dance were poisoned by drinking fruit punch. All will recover.

GEORGE ABBOTT HAS RESIGNED

As One of the Drivers of the Newark Patrol Wagon—Successor Not Yet Named.

George W Abbott, one of Mayor McCleery's appointees for the new patrol wagon has asked to be excused.

In a letter addressed to Mayor McCleery and the board of public safety, Officer Abbott says that he feels it his duty to tell the officials that he does not believe he can discharge the duties of driver of the patrol wagon to the satisfaction and justice of the public safety department.

Mr Abbott names as his reasons the condition of his health his temperament and his build. He asks that another be appointed to fill his place and that he be transferred to the force of patrolmen.

Mr Abbott has been off duty since Friday, being confined to his home with the grip. Mayor McCleery has not decided what he will do in the matter.

Commissioners of Holmes county, Ohio, decided not to accept $15,000 from Andrew Carnegie for county library building.

OVER EMBANKMENT WENT FOUR CARS OF B. & O. NO. 104

THE ENTIRE CREW AND PASSENGERS MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPE INJURY.

Wreck Caused Delay of Many Hours to Trains on the C. O. Division.

Piling up three passenger coaches and a baggage car, B. & O. express No. 104 due out of Newark at 12:35, was derailed while crossing a high bridge near Warnock, a small station a short distance out of Bellaire at 4:50 Sunday afternoon.

The first four cars of the train went over the steep embankment while the dining car and parlor car, on the bridge, remained on the track. It appears almost miraculous that none of the passengers on the train were injured. The train was in charge of Conductor Albert Woodward and was being hauled by two engines in charge of Engineers David Laughery and Isaac Denney, all of Newark. Several Newark people were on the train when the accident occurred.

J. J. Costlow, one of the passengers, and Baggagemaster J. C. Miller of this city, were slightly injured.

The derailing of the train was said to be due to the spreading of the track caused by heavy trains passing over it, where a small washout had occurred.

No. 104 was delayed 12 hours, the Bellaire wreck crew working until midnight to clear the track. A special was sent from Wheeling to take the passengers. No 15 was made seven hours and 55 minutes late by detouring by way of Wheeling and the C & M. V. No 8 was seven hours late and No 105 was two hours and 35 minutes late and was also required to make a detour.

WIND VELOCITY OF SIXTY MILES

Attained in Newark on Sunday, But Fortunately No Severe Damage Resulted.

The high wind of Sunday is reported to have done much damage over the state but, fortunately, Newark suffered very little. Slight trouble was reported to the telephone lines over the city but repairs were made quickly in each case and no inconvenience was caused.

The wind, reaching at times a rate of 60 miles an hour, made a record for recent years. It seldom, if at all, went below 30 miles, and for hours at a stretch it swept and whirled in a hurricane of 40 and 50 miles an hour.

The highest record for local wind during the last ten years is 61 miles an hour. Yet that was merely for spurts or stretches, while early yesterday morning it went 60 miles for 10 full minutes.

It may even have gone above 60 and the record of wind for years may have been broken. The delicate instrument in the Columbus weather bureau, which measures the velocity of wind, is only read approximately while it operates. Close calculations later may show that the velocity was really 61 or more miles.

The first 60-mile mark was made at 2:35 o'clock Sunday morning. The next was made early in the afternoon but this extended over a longer period.

Though the wind was so high, damage was comparatively trivial. A few signs were torn down, and others gave indications of being loosened, but this was the extent so far as reported. Dead branches of trees fell in the streets, but no one was hurt, either by these or the heavier signs.

The weather became colder with methodical slowness. At 7 o'clock in the morning the temperature was 34. It lowered by degrees and fractions of degrees all through the day, and at 8 in the evening it was at 22, and still receding slowly.

The wind was high yesterday in several places over the country. It was said to be 84 in Buffalo last night, but this may not be official.

January in many respects has been abnormal. So far it has rained every day except three, the first, fourth and tenth. The total precipitation has been 4.9 inches or 2.87 above the average. It may establish a record of rainfall for the month in recent years.

Bacon Challenges Story.

Washington Jan. 21.—Acting Secretary of State Bacon, when shown the dispatch from Kingston regarding Governor Swettenham's attitude toward Rear Admiral Davis, who went to Kingston with two battleships, a cruiser and torpedo-boat destroyer to administer aid to the stricken people, at once declared that it was not true. He charged that the newspapers were trying to make trouble.

RAISED TROUBLE ON B. & O. TRAIN LANDED IN JAIL

H. KINNEY OF UTICA WHILE INTOXICATED MADE HIMSELF OBNOXIOUS.

And Was Fined $25 and Costs—Four Other Men Arrested for Burglary.

H. Kinney, a resident of Utica, but an employe of a Mt. Vernon contractor, came to grief Saturday night and after creating a disturbance all the way from Mt. Vernon to Newark, he landed in jail here where he was soaked $25 and costs on a brace of charges.

The railroad men claim that Kinney, who was drunk, grew so disorderly on the train that many passengers were afraid to stay in the coach with him. He punched his fist through a window and otherwise made himself very obnoxious.

Officer Callahan as waiting for the train when it stopped at the depot here and Kinney was taken in charge. He resisted the officer and even went so far as to land a blow straight from the shoulder on Officer Callan's jaw. Callan retaliated with a swipe with his new hickory mace and Kinney was immediately subdued.

In police court, charges of drunk and disorderly, malicious destruction of property and fighting an officer were opposite Kinney's name on the slate. He was fined $25 and costs on three charges but the charge of destroying property as dismissed as this offense was committed in Knox county. Kinney was very penitent and agreed to settle with the railroad company for the damage done. He fears that the railroad officers will prosecute him in Knox county for smashing the window.

A bunch of police court regulars were rounded up Saturday evening by Officer Carroll and Railroad Officer Frank Roberts, and landed in the city prison on a charge of burglarizing a B. and O. freight car. The car was used by the company as a tool car and it is claimed that the men stole nearly $50 worth of tools. According to the railroad officer, a witness who will testify in the case, saw one of the men enter the car and take the tools.

In Mayor McCleery's court Monday morning, Officer Roberts filed affidavits against Crimpy Frazier, Samuel Buckalew, Frank Scanlon and Edward Elben, charging them with the burglary. They will be given a hearing later.

The police made good headway in the burglary case in which Messrs. Frazier, Scanlon, Elben and Buckalew are held at the city prison. Monday about noon Buckalew was put through a sweating process and told on his partners in crime. He stated that Elben and Scanlon entered the car and stole the wire which was missing.

It develops that the wire was sold to Barney Gilmore for $1.90 and Gilmore in turn sold it to a local dealer for $4. Gilmore was placed under arrest. It is believed that the evidence against the men is now unimpeachable.

"LACKING" SAME AS THE NEGRO

Is Woman, Said theh Chicago University Professor and the Fair Sex is Much Aroused.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Society women are up in arms against Prof. William I. Thomas, the latest University of Chicago man to acquire fame by means of radical utterances. Prof. Thomas, in a pronouncement, has denied that women possessed intellectual responsibility any more than negroes or other primitive peoples.

There lingers fresh in the memory of Chicago women his other arraignment contained in his article, "The Adventitious Character of Women," which caused so much discussion last summer. They resented his utterances on that occasion, but their resentment was as a summer zephyr compared to the storm which his present classification of their intellectual lives as similar to that of negroes has aroused.

Some of the Chicago society women in discussing the subject however, sought to disprove a portion of his charges by exercising the very qualities which he denied them, caution and a dispassionate weighing of the evidence.

Mrs. John A. Moore of the Chicago Women's club, characterized the professor as a "notoriety seeker." "I don't feel that his attack upon women will do them any harm whatever," she said.

Second Week

Of Our January Clearance Sale

Nothing succeeds like success, and with one successful week back of us we feel very sanguine of making this week greater in every way than it was this past week.

We can't be deluded. We prepared with great pains to break last week's selling records.

We've added new goods. We've replenished broken lines, and we have even indulged in further price-cutting. OF COURSE, WE WILL ESTABLISH NEW RECORDS.

This sale has already upset many old-fashioned methods and antique sale ideas concerning how cheaply goods can be sold—and what we will do this coming week will be historical.

But the prices tell the story—read and be enlightened.

Then bring your bargain bags and save. Clothe yourself with comfortable winter goods, which we are compelled to sacrifice. Can't afford to carry them over.
